Dear Clients and Partners,

I'm writing to you on the go, currently going through the northern part of Switzerland, visiting our clients in the region.

Our production is in full swing, with our equipment operating at its best. The water, energy, and raw material supply are all optimal, ensuring a smooth and uninterrupted production process. Logistics are on point. Our team remains highly motivated and focused on delivering excellence.

I'm currently sharing a train with a dog, who seems quite intrigued by my work as I write this message to you. Here's a picture of my travel companion:

However, since you could be more interested in visual insights into our production facilities, we can provide extensive photographic documentation from our recent audit conducted by Bureau Veritas. This comprehensive report is detailed and available upon request. Please feel free to contact me directly or our sales team if you would like to receive a copy.

Thank you for your ongoing trust and support. Looking forward to continuing our successful partnership.

Best regards,
Artem Atanasov
