Dear Clients and Partners,

I'm pleased to confirm that Centravis is operating at full capacity across all production sites. Thanks to stable access to power, water, and key infrastructure, our manufacturing processes remain uninterrupted, and all deliveries are proceeding according to schedule. Ensuring business continuity and operational reliability remains central to our mission.

As part of our commitment to openness and long-term trust, we're happy to share recent Bureau Veritas audit reports, provide video insights from our facilities, or organize online audits upon request. Transparent communication and accountability are the foundations of our relationship with you.

Thank you for your ongoing trust and collaboration.
