Dear Clients and Partners,

I would like to share a brief update regarding Centravis operations and confirm that our production facilities continue to operate steadily and without disruption.

All core business processes — including manufacturing, supply chain management, and logistics — remain fully operational. This enables us to maintain planned production schedules, fulfill our contractual commitments, and ensure that customer orders are delivered within the agreed timelines.

Operational stability and transparency continue to be key priorities for Centravis. To provide our clients and partners with additional confidence, the latest Bureau Veritas audit reports can be made available for review upon request.

We sincerely appreciate your continued trust in Centravis.

Best regards,
Artem Atanasov
