Dear Clients and Partners,

I would like to provide a brief update on Centravis operations and confirm that our production facilities continue to operate consistently and without interruption.

All essential business processes — including manufacturing, supply chain activities, and logistics — remain fully operational. This allows us to maintain our planned production schedules, meet our contractual obligations, and ensure that customer orders are delivered in accordance with agreed timelines.

Maintaining operational reliability and transparency remains a key priority for Centravis. To offer our customers and partners additional assurance, the latest Bureau Veritas audit reports are available for review upon request.

We greatly value the continued trust and confidence of our customers and partners and sincerely appreciate your ongoing cooperation with Centravis.

Best regards,
Artem Atanasov
