Dear Clients and Partners,

I'm glad to confirm that Centravis remains fully operational across all of our production facilities. With reliable access to energy, water, and key infrastructure, our manufacturing runs smoothly and without interruption — every order is completed with precision and delivered on schedule. Ensuring stability and reliability continues to be at the core of our work.

As part of our dedication to openness and long-term cooperation, we are ready to share the latest Bureau Veritas audit results, provide transparent insights into our production, or organize remote audits upon request. We believe that lasting partnerships are built on trust, clear communication, and consistently high performance.

Thank you for your ongoing trust in Centravis. We deeply value our relationship and look forward to achieving new milestones together.

Best regards,
